TASTE THE DIFFERENCE!

Benefits of cold pressing your juice

The most beneficial factor of a cold press juicer is the way it gently presses fruit and vegetables rather than high speed grinding and chewing. Cold pressing your fruit and vegetables to make juice helps keep the nutrients and enzymes intact and alive. These valuable enzymes transform the juice into delicious juice that retains its taste, smell and nutrients like no other juice. It helps your digestion, assisting the body to absorb the nutrients effectively, boosting your energy level and immune system. Kuvings Cold Press Juicers deliver cold press juice for good health and it tastes delicious.

Cold press juice can last up to 72 hours after juicing, depending on what you choose to juice. Leaving you plenty of time to enjoy drinking your juice or keep it stored in glass sealed bottles for later.

DAMASCUS STEEL KNIVES

Damascus Steel Knives are handcrafted and built for comfort fitting perfectly into your hand providing complete balance. With the benefits of Damascus steel, yet without rusting problems. The core of VG10 steel clad on each side with 67 layers of Damascus steel, made from stainless steel. The blades of each are individually forged to reveal their elegant, waved pattern. The Damascus blade results in less damage to the food being cut, and faster preparation times. With their hard, premium steel, each knife blade is thinner, lighter and sharper. There is a range of handles for your personal preference.

The technology involves over 50 manufacturing processes. The clad steel blade is rust-free with 67 layers of high carbon stainless steel clad onto each side of a VG10 “super steel” core. There is a range of handles available including. Pakka wood moisture resistant, made from genuine hardwood impregnated with resin. Santoprene Handle TPR (Thermoplastic Rubber) for a non-slip soft feeling for accuracy. SBB Stainless Steel Hollow Handle for easy to clean and again for personal preference. Last but not least is the Mikata Handle Range which is made with strong polymers and predominantly used in the Aerospace industry with durability being a major factor.
